

Transfusion Bootcamp

Calling all Australian registrars – haematology, critical care, surgical, medical, obstetric and paediatric – we want you.

Don't miss your chance to secure a spot at Transfusion Bootcamp 2020.

Australian Red Cross Lifeblood has proudly partnered with the Canadian Blood Service to deliver this intensive training event for Australian registrars.

We are offering three modules (around 1.5 hours each) that will provide you with a solid foundation in transfusion medicine, helping put you in the best possible shape for your clinical practice – and exams.

Register at bit.ly/TransfusionBootcamp or for more information email transfusionlearning@redcrossblood.org.au

July: Transfusion basics

Including lectures on:

- Basic blood bank testing
- Red cell transfusion
- Platelet transfusion
- Plasma, PCC and cryoprecipitate

Finish the month with an interactive Q&A session with transfusion medicine specialists Dr Ben Saxon and Dr Anastazia Keegan.

August: Patient blood management

Including lectures on:

- Preoperative patient blood management
- Intraoperative patient blood management
- Bleeding assessment and approaches to INR/APTT

Access to an interactive online forum and case studies. Post your questions and concerns for transfusion medicine experts to respond to.

September: Critical bleeding

Including a lecture on:

- Massive haemorrhage

Complete the month by joining anaesthetist Dr Ben Slater and transfusion medicine specialist Dr Lisa Clarke for an interactive case-based seminar.

Register at bit.ly/TransfusionBootcamp

